PUBLIC-BUILDING BILLS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Most of to-day's session in Congress was devoted to the consideration of the bills for the erection of public buildings in various parts of the country. The Senate bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the erection of a building in Boston was taken up, and the House bill, which appropriates $500,000 for the same purpose, was laid on the table. Several other bills of a similar character were taken up and disposed of, and when the hour of noon arrived the House of the bill pursuant to an order previously made, so that the Committee of the Whole could consider the bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the construction of the Washington monument. It was agreed to by unanimous consent that Saturday night be set apart for the consideration of private bills on the Speaker's table. The friends of this measure hope that they may soon be able to call up the bill, which, according to Mr. Randall's notice, will be taken up next Tuesday, unless, according to Mr. Randall's notice, will be taken up next Tuesday, unless, according to Mr. Randall's notice, will be taken up next Tuesday, unless Tuesday was a $50,000 day in Pennsylvania, Pa., yesterday.

It is reported that $1,000,000 of gold will be exported from New York Saturday.

Russia, the Spanish revolutionist, has been expelled from Switzerland at the request of Spain.

Thomas Lloyd has submitted to Victor Emmanuel the letter will retain the Presidency of Egypt.

There will be an business on the Chicago Board of Trade today (Good Friday). The public schools will be closed.

An association of Kentucky distillers has been formed for the purpose of exporting whisky to France, to Germany.

The transfer of Gen. von Steinbecker from Washington to another post has been announced by the German Cabinet.

Senator Williams, of Milwaukee, has informed the class of the local Civil-Service Reform Association of that city.

It is reported from Cairo that Count Digeon has resigned a post-English think as the Ambassador to negotiations with the British.

Joseph J. Edmonds, merchant of Milwaukee last week at Indianapolis, was sentenced yesterday to be hanged June 20 next.

Queen Victoria will arrive at Dover about the 17th inst. Emperor Augusta of Germany will leave Berlin the 15th to meet her.

Commissioner Sackett Redmond has been appointed by the Republicans of the Fifth Illinois District. This is equivalent to an election.

An important pronouncement in favor of Logan for President from prominent Republicans of the United West will be found on another page.

D. M. Kinsman and A. P. Charles will represent the Third Indiana District at the National Republican Convention. They are uninstructed.

Comptroller Knox, of the United States Treasury Department, has accepted the Presidency of a New York City bank, and will shortly retire to private position.

Representatives Townsend and Henry S. Baldwin will represent the Seventeenth New York (City) District in the National Republican Convention. They favor Arthur.

Assistant to the reports of the Washington Agricultural Department there are 27,000,000 acres in the United States under winter wheat. This area is about 1,000,000 acres more than last year.

Professor Mitchel, of Orleans College, addressed the closed assemblage of that institution yesterday. He was subsequently in the evening at the residence of Mr. Cyrus H. McCormick.

It is stated by prominent Democrats politically at Washington that the position adopted by the Pennsylvania Democracy at Allentown Wednesday was drafted by Randall and approved by Tilden.

At the convention of the Eleventh Congressional District of Indiana, held at Martinsville, James Vance, of Jay County, and J. S. Conner, of Huntington, were elected delegates to the National Republican Convention. The preference of the delegation is for Blaine; Logan second unit. Both parties to be the Senator Harrison, if he is a candidate.

William L. McKee and William C. Smith were elected by the Republicans of the Eighth Indiana District to represent them at the National Republican Convention at Chicago. They are unpledged.

Josef Reinhold and Wilhelm Bertin were elected delegates to the National Republican Convention from the Twelfth Republican District of Indiana yesterday. The delegates were not instructed.

Texas is worth subjection at Paducah, S. C., because a colored Postmaster has been appointed there instead of a white man. The Confederate inhabitants of the town propose not to have any intercourse with the new Postmaster.

Texas is a steady undercurrent in favor of Blaine in the Fifth Illinois District. The Republican delegates to the Chicago Convention are instructed for Logan. It is reported that they will go to Blaine, telling Logan's nomination.

Tax collector of Alexander C. Wiggins was awarded $5,000 by the United States Court at Indianapolis yesterday against the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad for the death of the husband, who was shot on the cars of that road by a drunken passenger.

It is thought in Washington, on account of the intimate relations between Tilden and Randall, that the defeat of the Pennsylvania Democracy Convention to indorse the former is a sure indication that he will not be a candidate for the Presidency.

Congressman Kelley, of Pennsylvania, proposes to call for a precedent-vote on the motion to go into Committee of the Whole on the Morrison Tariff bill. The vote will be a decisive one or the reverse before the session is concluded.

Uncontested delegations were elected from the Second and Thirteenth Indiana Districts to the National Republican Convention yesterday. In the Second District Judge Gresham seems to have most support. In the Thirteenth Blaine is decidedly the favorite.

A conference of experts which has examined the books of the Deposit Savings-Bank of Milwaukee has fully exonerated Mr. Daniels, the Treasurer of that corporation, from the charges of misappropriation of funds brought against him some time ago.

Of 600 miners thrown out of work to date in Chicago 410 are widely and view business at $400 each, and but seventy-three are for hire alone. The gratis Union enforces does not seem likely to greatly affect the severance in the harvest from Grant Summer.

It is understood that the late Mr. Henry Bishoock, one of the Division Superintendents of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, has bequeathed the bulk of his property to Knox College, at Galesburg, in this State. The bequest is estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000.

It is not quite certain that a majority of the Southern delegates will come to Chicago instructed for Arthur. There are many indications that most of them will come uninstructed and prepared to vote for the man who is most likely to carry Ohio in October and New York in November.

A peculiar case closely resembling the recent murder of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson at Wapella occurred Wednesday night near Charleston, Ill. An aged couple named Fleetwood were found with their throats cut from ear to ear, the last having been fired by the wounds previous to his departure.

At the meeting of the Chicago School Board last evening Inspector Shoffler objected to music being placed in the list of grade studies, also to the study of Greek and Latin in the high-schools. Board he was in favor of abolishing the ancient-language studies at the end of the present school-year.

Tennessee the Five Congressional Districts of Indiana held a convention at Shelbyville. Capt. J. C. Ivers and Capt. A. W. Montgomery were elected delegates to the Chicago Convention. One is a prominent Union man. The other is understood to be for Blaine. The sentiment in the district is overwhelmingly for Blaine.

The Republican primaries for the selection of delegates to the County Convention, which will in turn select delegates to the State Convention at Peoria, will be held in the various wards of this city, in Jefferson, Lake View, Evanston, and Cicero, between the hours of 4 and 7 p. m. In the other country towns the polls will be open between 1 and 7 p. m.

Mr. J. J. Gowan, Treasurer of the Tammany Hall General Committee of New York, is in Chicago to secure quarters for those of his associates who will accompany John Kelly to this city next July on the business of Presidential-candidate-making. He can see now that Tammany will Kelly are willing to support Tilden, Hancock the "Old Man" notion to notwithstanding, may other candidate it would be preferable.

The Chicago produce markets were active yesterday and lights, but badly crumbled. Pork declined 87½ cents, sold up 75 cents, and closed $1.25 cents lower than Wednesday afternoon. Lard and meats closed five cents lower, wheat and oats from regular of a cent higher, and corn unchanged. Prices sold as follows at one time or more during the day:

It seems as though the Democratic Congressmen of Ohio were determined to make Randall's Presidential candidacy ridiculous. They objected to all appropriations for public buildings until Mr. Sheldrigge, of Indiana, a leading Democrat, proposed an appropriation for a public building for New Albany. Then Mr. Holman was in double as an ecstasy. Holman's fellow-Democrats, Money of Mississippi and Allen of South Carolina, roundly accused the "objector" of inconsistency. Sheldrigge secured his appropriation, however. This will probably lead to his renomination.

Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, is entitled to the gratitude of all intelligent people for the persistence with which he has urged his Popular-Education bill from the time he first proposed it until it was adopted by the United States Senate. The bill has been improved by the suggestion of others, and in its present shape is regarded as more practical than as originally proposed; but the idea was Blair's, and it is to his energy mainly that its adoption was due. Many of the Southern by the Senate were convinced to endorse that State accordingly to the law of the red meats of the present, and if the Southern in the House refuse to accept the bill they will bring many Federal communities to their tents. If the bill

Mr. Sheldrigge, in reply to the Duke of Argyll's reply to him in the April number of the London Nineteenth Century, in which he replied to Mr. Gladstone's article in the March number of the same magazine, says: "I am not aware that I have ever made any statement in relation to the Irish question which I am not prepared to maintain, and I am not aware that I have ever made any statement in relation to the Irish question which I am not prepared to maintain, and I am not aware that I have ever made any statement in relation to the Irish question which I am not prepared to maintain."

Senator Logan is now at Indianapolis, and will remain there for a few days. He is not expected to return to Washington before the middle of next week. He has been very busy since the adjournment of Congress, and has not had time to rest. He is looking well, and says he is feeling well. He has been invited to visit Chicago, and will probably do so before the Republican National Convention meets.

The Democratic Convention of the Seventh Congressional District at Rockwell, Ill., yesterday elected two church Logan delegates to the Chicago Convention. Col. Rockwell, father-in-law of Congressman Cox, that district, sought to be elected a delegate, but he was unable to Logan him disgusted, and he was defeated. The second choice of rest and probably of both delegates chosen is Blaine. The distinguishes of this result is the Seventh District contains in the first that it was the last and last fighting ground of the anti-Logan forces outside of Cook County. Col. Logan is now second of Judge-elect Delegates from Illinois to the National Convention. The opponents to this county met and district this of more than eight delegates if they were all the four districts, and they probably will not carry more than one. The figure which the delegates from Chicago will cut in the National Convention during their immense votes against the sentiment of the State at large will not be inspiring. It will tend to create sympathy for Logan, and will do him more good than harm. It will be a misfortune to any other candidate to receive those votes, for it will arouse antagonisms that will not easily be laid to rest. Logan ought to have the vote of his State by acclamation, and it is unfortunate that he will not be so honored.

The Democratic Convention of the Republican Congressional Committee of the Fifth District, which is to meet in Logan, will be the first test of the sentiment of the Republicans of the district since the Democratic victory of last fall. It will be watched with interest by politicians of both parties, and the result will be accepted as indicating the drift of public opinion in the district. The Republicans are confident of success, and will make a vigorous fight.

DEFEAT OF THE WOOL-TARIFF BILL.

We feel that the defeat in the House of Representatives of the Carlisle (free-wool) proposition to restore the old rate of duty on wool is very generally regarded as a great triumph for the protective-tariff men, and as giving a better position to the Morrison bill on wool is discovered in any other part of the section. There are unfairly many circumstances which have not been made public, and which will not be known for some time, connected with the Carlisle defeat. The Morrison bidding to interfere with the consideration of the Carlisle bill, but discussed it as to quarter, and then defeated it by a handsome majority. The bill was to call to have had a special rule made the Democratic caucus it was on this account, because the Republicans had been arranged by the Ohio Democrats for securing the bill on wool, because the Democrats carried the State on the platform which made this arrangement, and because the Democratic Legislature of Ohio passed a resolution requesting the members from that State to vote for a restoration of the old rate. These were more party reasons why the Democrats to support the Carlisle Wool bill than there are to support the Morrison bill, and the defeat of the former is quite of the fact must be accepted as a hopeful sign.

The most valuable contribution which the opponents of the Carlisle bill made to the anti-Carlisle of the day was the speech of Representative Reed, of the Tenth district, and it was scarcely have failed to influence the vote. That gentleman undertook to demonstrate that a high duty on wool is not injurious to a building to the people at large, but that, on the contrary, the manufacturers of woolen goods, and even to the American wool-growers. He first paid was really established. It is evident that a high tariff has increased the cost of any raw material on which it is levied, and also that the cost of raw material cannot be increased without increasing the cost of the manufactured article to the consumer. The tariff on wool must not be raised without making woolen goods dearer to the American people, which would be a special hardship in a country where woolen garments are almost universally indispensable to comfort and health. Mr. Reed was also able to show that the interests of the manufacturers would also be injured by increasing the tariff on wool —not merely because any artificial increase of raw material is injurious to them, but because to this case it would actually check their capacity for production to no-half. No longer forced markets to show that American mills can manufacture about 600,000,000 pounds of wool per annum, and that American wool-growers produce only about 300,000,000 pounds per annum. To the extent that a high tariff on wool does not aid the foreign article it must, therefore, restrict the home production of woolen goods, and so increase duty to an embargo on the industry, something some with to close down entirely, others to run on short time, and all to reduce wages. The manufacturing and the wearing classes would be among the principal sufferers from an increased duty on wool. But the proposition to raise the tariff on the best was also forced against the interests of the Southern wool-growers because foreign wool is necessary for mixing with the Southern wools in the manufacture of cloth. The wool produced in this country is of a quality suited to the fabrications. The home market therefore neither the superfluous nor the coarse wools. It does, on consistent duty on foreign wool should limit the importation thereof, the resulting depression in the woolmanufacturing industry would necessarily restrict the demand for American wool and cheapen prices for the same. On the other hand, if foreign wool was to be brought into the country at a reasonable price the American manufacturer of woolen goods will be encouraged, the demand for American wools increased with the foreign wools will be enlarged, and the prices for the latter will be better. The argument is clear and logical.

If the high-tariff Democrats shall extend to the Morrison bill the same fair consideration and open discussion with which the low-tariff Democrats met the Carlisle bill the result to the latter case regardless the hope that something may still be accomplished at the present session in the direction of revenue reform.

THE MORRISON PENSION BILL.

The subject of pensions is beginning to attract the attention of the Cabinet as well as State authorities, and has come before Congress in the form of a bill introduced by Mr. Edmunds for the establishment of a Soldiers' Home in Dakota, at the headquarters of the Missouri and Columbia Rivers, comprising about 1,000 acres, which are to be set apart as forever inviolate, and degree thereto to which are to be severely punished. If this makes a miserable asylum, who but thoroughly investigated it, visits in the Fort Lyon, Colo., Soldiers' Home, and the Dayton (O.) Soldiers' Home, to-day.

At first two most opposed State asylums are professional every class of whom to secure general support. In any of them the principles of the Republican party have come to rule, the Democratic party has come to power, and the Democratic party has come to power, and the Democratic party has come to power, and

An Endless Host for a Child-Queen of Private Employ in Chicago.

The private hospitals of this city remain doing benevolent work, but the work on large scale like some of the most significant events which daily transpire within their walls. For years the traffic in children—the buying and selling of new-born babes—has been carried on in Chicago as well as in other cities, and for a fortnight Grace Van Vleeck is reported to have to give the results of her "infant industry."

During the last few years a woman who has gained the honor a most remarkable reputation in her hospital practice has kept a private hospital at various places in this city, where she has received children mothers with intent for the purpose of disposing desirable husbands.

The following are the facts in the case which Miss Vleeck successfully practiced the fraud upon their husbands. The nature of the process closely connected with the scheme are withheld at that the husband of Summer from South may not be troubled, about a week ago during the morning before a hot woman of prepossessing appearance called at the County Hospital and inquired how to get a baby to adopt it. She said she wanted to get a baby to adopt it, that was ordered by the Hospital the nurse of the ward. The stranger would give no reference, and the Physician would not permit her to take away a child without them. She then called at the Chicago Foundling Asylum, where the matron also refused to intrust her with a child without references. She then called at Wesley Hospital and decided to inquire how to get the desired baby. She asked that the matron would be kind enough to call at the residence of the lady. She would then be satisfied on the matter and that woman took a fine physical but to assure that the difference in the fact, the matron said that Miss Vleeck would be no further obstacle to her duty that would be necessary to see the lady. The matron then gave the address of Miss Vleeck at the Hospital. Miss Vleeck was not at home when the matron called, but she left word that she would call on the lady the next day. She did so, and the matron took her to the ward where the babies were kept. She selected a child, and the matron gave it to her. She then called at the office of the Foundling Asylum, and left a check for $10 in payment for the child. She then called at the office of the Chicago Foundling Asylum, and left a check for $10 in payment for the child. During the last few days east-bound freight shipments have considerably fallen off, and it is believed that the movement for the week will be fully 15,000 less than last week, when the increased amount of over 30,000 over the previous. The decrease is due partly to the fact that the movement in grain of grain and grain to the relief of elevators that the Grand Line will now have to look for more than one, and that therefore they will not have to elevators of water connection placed. The indications are, however, that the Grand Line will soon be ready to receive grain, and that the Grand Line will soon be ready to receive grain, and that the Grand Line will soon be ready to receive grain, and

The marine underwriters have assembled at a time of unprecedented depression from the standpoint of the shipowners, but their meeting was not encouraging, and it was doubted even in Marine circles that a cargo pool could be formed. All of the boat owners except those on the Atlantic coast, have agreed to the new rates of insurance, and the Board of Underwriters will meet again on the 15th inst., and probably be known at which time will be given to-day.

The Welland Canal.

A correspondent writing from Port Colborne says: "It is reported that it is the intention of some enterprising parties to put on the steamer Avon, now lying in this harbor, to ply between Port Colborne and Toledo, in the event that the Welland Canal is not opened for navigation by the 15th inst. The Avon is a fine boat, and will be a great convenience to the people of Toledo, Detroit and other points in Michigan, as it will be the only boat running between Lake Erie and Lake Michigan. The Avon is one of the finest boats on the lakes
